Hosted by the National War Tax Resistance
Coordinating Committee (NWTRCC)

Tortuga

War tax resistance as an act of conscience and protest is an individual choice, and one that hundreds of people continue over the years — as wars continue through Republican and Democrat administrations. Our resistance also rises from hope for radical social change and the belief that a better world is possible.

During this weekend we will discuss the ins and outs of individual war tax resistance, political issues of concern to resisters, current outreach efforts, and how we can better connect with activists in the wider peace, justice, and environmental movements.

Saturday will include a panel with representatives from Money Rebellion—an arm of Extinction Rebellion-UK—that is working to disrupt the economic rules and institutions driving us toward societal collapse. This panel will also include a representative from Grup Antimilitarista Tortuga, a very creative and active war tax resistance group in Spain. is possible.

Saturday will also include a session with Peter Goldberger, an attorney in Ardmore, Pennsylvania, and the longtime legal consultant to NWTRCC. The entire schedule can be found at www.nwtrcc.org.
