Peace talks now -- Not Weapons Shipments

We call on our country to give strong support to a settlement that includes a ceasefire, withdrawal of Russian troops, a commitment to Ukraine's independence and neutrality, and security guarantees for both Ukraine and Russia.

Escalating hostilities not only means more death in Ukraine. The continued blocking of grain shipments due to the war and sanctions mean far more people will starve to death in the Middle East, Africa and Latin America than will die from war in Ukraine. The diversion of tens of billions more of our tax dollars for weapons shipments may be good for weapons contractors. But it means that growing hardship in the U.S. will continue to go unaddressed – as will impending climate catastrophe. And the continuing war means that the real danger of terminal nuclear war remains ever present as one side or the other gains the upper hand.

We say, “Peace Talks Now” – Not billions more for weapons and war funding.
